

§ Advanced user in MS Office and other software – during my studies I have covered a range of useful IT courses, which gave me skills that I am constantly using and upgrading through the needs of my daily working routines. Lately, I was using mostly specialized financial software “Trennus”, as well as MS Excel (including some advanced functions), MS Word, MS Power point and a range of in-house developed applications. Lately creating, developing and supporting my webpage www.newfinns.com I have obtained skills regarding new software and protocols, such as Photo Shop, Html and the supportive for Bluehost software, as this process of learning moves constantly forward.
